SOUTH JERSEY GIFT GUIDE 2013

Renovated building finds new life housing choice antiques nce Benjamin Franklin and President Ulysses Grant worked, walked and lived the streets of Burlington City, the oldest city in New Jersey. Just 30 minutes north of Philadelphia, Burlington City is one the most scenic and historic towns on the Delaware River.

In 1926, the Anderson Motors Company, a Chrysler-Plymouth dealership, constructed a 14,000 square foot brick and arched, wooden truss building. For about 50 years, the structure was used to repair and maintain automobiles. When the dealership closed in 1972, the building was abandoned and neglected for many years. Eventually a large section of the roof collapsed and the structure became a very large birdhouse. Scott Carlbon, a local developer and city resident, gave new life to the dilapidated building. After two years of intense renovation, the building reopened in June 2001 as the Historic Burlington Antiques and Art Emporium. The Emporium was created as a unique home for approximately 80 antique dealers.

Today, antiques from the late 1700s to the 1920s fill this spectacular post and beam structure. Shoppers will find primitive and Victorian furniture, glassware, jewelry, pottery, paintings, books, toys, records, and collectibles, all at reasonable prices. Recently, our knowledgeable dealers help set designers purchase 100 antiques for a major motion picture being filmed in Pennsylvania. CBS3/CW Philly reporter Robin Rieger and Covert Affairs TV Star Piper Perabo shop at

The Emporium is located at 424 High St., (Route 541) across from the Post Office. Burlington City is one mile from the Burlington Bristol Bridge and seven miles from Exit 47B of I-295. Shoppers can also use the Camden to Trenton River Line, which has a stop one block from the building. Visit us and step back in time. The Emporium is open every day from 11 a.m. until 5 p.m. The Emporium will be open until 7 p.m. every Thursday evening until the end of the year. Complimentary snacks and coffee are offered daily. Santa will be at the Emporium on three different days in December.

Bring your camera to take photos with Santa. The Emporium will be having a special Black Saturday Sale. Come join us and enjoy shopping for your unique holiday gifts. For more information, visit our website www.antiquesnj.com, or call (609) 747-8333.

Mr. Bill's Bicycles

Street in downtown Palmyra, has been an independent bicycle store, providing both sales and service for more than 30 years. The owner, William Koltonuk, more commonly known as "Mr. Bill," began fixing bikes before his teenage years on the Atlantic City boardwalk with his grandfather, and turned that passion and skill into his own business in his early 20s. Catering to the average recreational rider, and thus avoiding both the extreme low-end of bicycles and the extreme high-end, Mr. Bill's has bikes that are comfortable, durable and, most importantly, won't break the bank. And each new bike they offer comes fully assembled, with a liberal adjustment and tune-up policy, so you don't have to fight with stubborn parts and poorly adjusted brakes and gears on your new ride.

While still available, the days of the 10-speed style bike ruling the roads is over. Many of today's most popular styles feature a wider, more stable tire and a much more upright riding position to alleviate discomfort and back issues. Both factors combined are very important because if you're not actually comfortable when you ride, you probably won't get out there for the enjoyment and health benefits riding can deliver.

In addition to a knowledgeable sales staff, and many new bikes to choose from, Mr. Bill's can assemble, repair and service any make and model of bicycle, no matter where it was purchased. From a simple brake job or gear adjustment to the most complex complete overhaul, Mr. Bill's service technicians are fully trained and very experienced to get the job done right, quickly and at a fair price to the consumer. But the store doesn't stop there. They also offer accessories, parts, apparel, even cycling shoes that many people use for their spin classes. The two most important accessories for any rider, of course, are a helmet and a bicycle lock, both of which are readily available at the shop, and several options of each are available. Come by and talk to the staff to find out which ones are ideal for

One last note – they're closed on Mondays, just like all of us wish would be the case for our own jobs.

Upholstery, Draperies and More! Interior Designer on Staff

SOUTH JERSEY GIFT GUIDE 2013

Old world craftsmanship flourishes at Garistina Upholstery

■ veryone has a story to tell and ■ Garistina Upholstery's founder, ⊿Giuseppe, is no different.

Like the time a local Philadelphia radio personality sent out an on-air SOS to locate Garistina Upholstery. "He wanted us to upholster his family's vintage furniture a second time after noticing the tag I had sewn into the decking years before, which had our old phone number from Camden," says Garistina.

The DJ asked his listeners if anyone knew whether he was still in business, says Garistina. "Several people called to tell him we were located in Mount Laurel," he says. "Then our phone started ringing off the hook with people who had heard about us for the first time as a result of that appeal."

Regardless of how people discover Garistina Upholstery, two generations of South Jersey residents have commissioned this family business for design and fabrication of custom furniture, re-upholstery, draperies, repairs and furniture retrofitting.

Because of its longevity, the shop has extensive relationships with major textile distributors, so its fabric and trim library is broad and suitable for residential and commercial upholstery, slipcovers and drapery applications. "Our years of experience mean that we know how to recommend the best textiles for each client's project. It also means that, no matter what textile is chosen, our high quality of workmanship is applied across the board," says Anthony Garistina, Giuseppe's son and business partner.

As the business has grown to include Anthony and his sister, Garistina Upholstery now offers full service interior design for residential and commercial clients, and auto, commercial and marine upholstery. Tina Garistina Klucsik, who earned her degree in interior design from The Art Institute of Philadelphia, is designer-in-residence and provides space planning, color consultations and drapery design expertise, among other design services.

We are striving to become a one-stop location for clients in South Jersey and the Philadelphia area by offering a variety of skills and products," says Anthony. "We're very proud that we are true hand craftsmen; we always remind our clients that we are one of the only places left where they can obtain a totally personalized product, one that truly reflects their preferences and their needs. It's an experience that cannot be duplicated elsewhere."

18 SOUTH JERSEY GIFT GUIDE 2013 🌞

A friendship gift that keeps on giving ccent Studio is once again selling a limited edition Haddonfield Friendship Ball this holiday season. This is the this holiday season. This is the 12th year the studio has created and sold a special edition friendship ball. Other friendship balls from many different U.S. glass artists are sold in a variety of colors and designs throughout the year at Accent Studio.

This year's Haddonfield Friendship Ball was created by Tom Stoenner from Hudson Valley, N.Y. Each ball comes gift boxed with a history of the friendship ball tradition along with a brief biography of the artist. The tradition of the friendship ball dates back to the 17th century when glass blowers in Europe and North America used the glass remaining in the furnace at the end of each day to create decorative balls. When given as gifts, these handmade glass balls symbolize a tradition of friendship and good luck.

Shoppers can purchase this year's Haddonfield Friendship Ball at Accent

Studio for $25. Each year, a portion of the proceeds benefits a local charity. This year's sale will benefit the Haddonfield Historical Society.

Accent Studio also carries a wide array of handmade ornaments and art glass collectibles that would be the perfect gift for your loved one this holiday season. Stop in to see the unique selection of handmade art glass, jewelry, paperweights, vases and perfume bottles... all made in the United States!

Throughout the year, Accent Studio features a dynamic collection of American art glass and regional fine art. The Studio is also known for their awardwinning custom framing department, offering a full range of services to preserve your artwork for generations to come. They also offer restoration services for works on paper, canvas, board and photographs.

Accent Studio is located at 123 Kings Highway East in Haddonfield. During the holiday season, they are open 7 days a week with extended hours on Friday nights. For more information, call (856) 795-8800 or visit their website at www.accentstudio.com.

e at Sheridan Plumbing would like to express our thanks to the many customers, businesses and friends who supported The Pink Roses and Teal Magnolias fundraising event.

Together we were able to raise over $5,000 through the sale of raffle tickets, table sponsorships and donations. That money will be used by The Cooper Foundation to benefit breast and gynecological cancer programs, including life saving research and cancer care, right here in South Jersey. In total, over $600,000 was raised during the event!

We ask that you support the many local businesses such as Weinstein Bath and Kitchen, The Artemisian, Rick Volpe Construction, Say it With Clay, Sapori Trattoria, The Pop Shop, Il Fiore, Bistro di Marino and The Taproom and Grill that were very generous in contributing to this cause that means so much to us.

Thank you from Sheridan Plumbing for over 30 years of continued support. From our family to yours, may you have a healthy and happy holiday season.
